W3-Wilson Feeder Education Network

Monday, June 7, 7PM

DC's new education research collaborative; DC's STAR rating; school budgets; Community Working Group recommendations on Foxhall and MacArthur schools....

From the W3EN:

We are very happy to host Matt Chingos of the DC Education Research Collaborative and State Board of Education (SBOE) representative for Ward 3, Ruth Wattenberg.

We will first hear from Matt Chingos and have an opportunity to ask questions. The DC Education Research Collaborative is a consortium of 15 organizations, headed by the Urban Institute, that conducts research designed and implemented in partnership with members of the DC education community.

Then we will talk about SBOE happenings. In particular, she will talk about the work that the School Board is doing looking again into the School Transparency and Reporting (STAR) framework for school-level report cards as required by the Every Student Success Act (ESSA).

With our remaining time, we will talk about school budgets and the Community Working Group on Foxhall and MacArthur.
